The Daily Courant.

Tuesday, January 24. 1716.

From the Leiden Gazette.

Lisbon, December 27.

THE King holds frequent Councils upon the preſent State of Affairs: And his Majeſty has publiſhed a Decree, whereby he orders that all the Officers of both Horſe and Foot, as well thoſe continued in Service as thoſe that are reformed, ſhall be paid the Arrears due to them. The beſt Methods are taking for hindering the French and other Nations from going to Trade clandeſtinely in Brazil, as they have done for ſome time paſt. The King perſiſts in his Reſolution of going into foreign Countries next Spring, and all things are preparing accordingly.

Madrid, Dec. 30. Letters from Cadix of the 22d of this Month, adviſe that the three Ships commanded by Captain Martinet were returned thither from the Canary Islands, whither they went to convoy the four Ships that went hence ſome Time ago for Carthagena in America. They are daily ſo hard at work there in equiping the two Ships deſigned for the Havana, that it is expected they may be ready to put to Sea by the 15th or 20th of next Month. An Inſpector is to go with thoſe Ships, to take Care that none of the Gold or Silver that were in the Galeons ſaved out of the Flotilla be embezled; and their Care is to extend not only to that on the King's Account, but alſo to that on private Account. An Advice-Yacht is hourly expected at Cadix from the Governor of the Havana, with an exact Liſt of what is ſaved.

From the Amſt. Cour. datad Jan. 18.

Schaffhauſen, Jan. 8. The Lords of the Canton of Soluthurn are hard at Work upon the new Fortifications of their City, which appear to be very regular, and they are beginning to build Outworks, as alſo to undermine thoſe Parts where the City can be neareſt approached. It is yet unknown when the new French Ambaſſador M. d'Avarey will come hither, but the new Intendant of Alſatia is expected the 26th at Straſburg. There is a Report, that a Peſtilential Sickneſs is again broke out in the Emperor's Hereditary Countries, eſpecially in Bohemia, Moravia, and Carinthia. A certain young Woman, Daughter of the Pro[illegible] of Endingen, who at four Years of A[illegible] was put into the Nunnery of Frawenthal, and has lived there till ſhe is now 18 Years old, has lately upon a conviction of Conſcience found Means to eſcape out of the Nunnery to Bremgarten, where ſhe has renounced the Popiſh Errors, and declared her ſelf of the Reformed Religion. Some of the Principal of her Convent and others have been with her, but ſhe perſiſts in her Reſolution of continuing a Proteſtant. She is at preſent at Lenzberg in the Dominion of Berne, where all poſſible Care is taken not only for the Safety of her Perſon, but alſo that her Fortune, which amounts to 30000 Florins, be not with-held from her.

From the Amſt. Cour. dated Jan. 21.

Schaffhauſen, Jan. 12. The Canton of Zurich will grant no Troops to the Venetians but upon the Foot of the Capitulation of 1706, which it is believed the Reſident will comply with. The ſending of a Reſident from the Canton of Bern to Paris meets with ſome Difficulty, and 'tis therefore believed that it may be omitted. There has for ſome time paſt been felt ſeveral light Shocks of Earthquake, but we are in fear of greater.

From the Hague Courant, dated Jan. 22.

Zurich, Jan. 12. 'Tis thought the Venetian Reſident will go himſelf to Bern, to try if he cannot by Word of Mouth do more than by Writing towards obtaining his Demand for Troops to ſerve his Republick. But 'tis expected he will hardly ſucceed in it, in regard that in the preſent Poſture of Affairs they dare not expoſe themſelves to the want of thoſe Troops, and beſides they are unwilling that they ſhould be ſent into Dalmatia.

He writes alſo, that the French reinforce their Companies of Dragoons with 6 Men each, which they draw out of the Infantry, and to replace them they make new Levies, but their Deſign in it is not underſtood.

London, January 24.

Yesterday arrived a Mail from France.

Paris, Jan. 29. They write from Gironne, that they had received Letters from Lerida, whereby they learn that the Detachments sent out to pursue two Troops of Miquelets who in Number about 400 had been seen thereabouts, had met with and attacked them so briskly that they killed 164, and took 35 Prisoners. There is advice from Roses, that two French Ships are arrived there from the Straights very much damaged by a severe Storm which surprized them at the Height of Palamos: The Masters of those Ships declare they saw two Algerine Corsairs cast away with all their Men, and that an English Ship giving chase to them had like to have perished also. Letters from Cadix of the 7th Instant, relate that there had been such violent Winds that a Mexican Ship had been driven upon her Anchors, and 'twas not doubted that great Damage was done at Sea, since they saw floating upon the Waves many Wracks. We hear from Grenoble of the 20th, that so great a Quantity of Snow was fallen thereabouts for 15 Days, that the Roads are intirely unpassable, and the Mountains are so covered with it that the Wolves fly thence into the Plains, and come into the Villages to devour the Inhabitants, and that some have been seen even at the Gates of that City. But the Soldiers are ordered to Patroll to drive them off, and they have already killed 8 of a monstrous Size. The Couriers going to Turin can pass no further, but are obliged to leave their Packets there.
